

MSHDA 2013 QUALIFIED CONSULTANT LIST

Firms listed below responded to a MSHDA Request for Qualifications for environmental firms to conduct either of two types of environmental consulting services:

Group A Services:

1. ASTM Phase I and Phase II Environmental Site Assessments (ESAs) with MSHDA non-scope items (per MSHDA 2013 Environmental Review Requirements),
2. Baseline Environmental Assessments (BEAs),
3. Due Care Compliance Analyses;
4. Peer Reviews of 1, 2, and 3 as needed,
5. Lead-based paint investigations (appropriate certifications required),
6. NESHAP-compliant Asbestos Containing Material assessments (appropriate licensure required)

Group B Services:

National Environmental Protection Act (NEPA) study and statutory compliance report.

The listed firms were selected for inclusion on MSHDA's prequalified environmental consultant list. However, sponsors and others in the development community submitting projects to the Authority for environmental review may contract with any qualified environmental consulting firm for Group A services. The contracted firm, however, must be able to provide a MSHDA-scope Phase I ESA per MSHDA Environmental Review Specifications, including Non-Scope items, and meet MSHDA's insurance requirements, as described in the latest Environmental Review Specification, which can be found on the MSHDA website under "Environmental Links".

Sponsors and others in the development community that require Group B services, i.e., a NEPA study for federal funding requests, however, may only select from the prequalified firms listed below on the Group B services list. This reflects the more specialized nature of conducting a compliant NEPA study.

Please note that the Qualified Consultant List includes those environmental professionals that met specific qualifications at a certain point in time. Circumstances change (e.g. licenses and certifications may lapse or expire, qualified personnel may change firms, etc.) so it is incumbent on the Developers to ascertain whether the Qualified Consultant's licenses, certifications, qualifications, etc. are in good standing and current at the time they are hired. MSHDA does not represent or warrant that the Qualified Consultants have continued to maintain their respective qualifications while on the MSHDA Qualified Consultant List.
